

The FCC should not require VoIP providers to comply with the wiretap/E911 requirements. This is a new market that should not be regulated by the FCC as it is not federally mandated monopoly situation like the legacy phone system. I believe that it should not be the job of the FCC to stifle innovation on the behalf of the major telecom providers.